

Company Policy Handbook

Sample document for RAG practice | Version 1.0 | 6 October 2026

This handbook is a fictional training document created for PDF retrieval and question-answering exercises. The rules and benefits below are illustrative and are not an approved AIQUBIX employment policy.

1. Purpose and scope

The sample policy describes working hours, attendance, leave, remote work, professional conduct, data security, expense claims, and training responsibilities. Unless a section states otherwise, it applies to full-time employees. Interns, contractors, and part-time trainers follow the terms recorded in their individual agreements.

2. Working hours and attendance

Standard working hours are Monday to Friday, 9:00 AM to 6:00 PM, in India Standard Time, including a one-hour lunch break. Saturday and Sunday are weekly holidays. Employees record attendance each working day in the attendance system.

Employees who expect to be late or absent should inform their reporting manager before 9:00 AM. Trainers with evening or weekend classes must agree on an alternative schedule with their manager in advance.

3. Policy contacts

The reporting manager approves schedules and leave requests. HR maintains leave records and handles employee policy questions. Finance reviews expense claims. IT support handles account access and technical incidents. Use the internal employee directory to find the current contact details.

4. Leave policy

In this sample policy, full-time employees receive 12 days of earned leave, 6 days of casual leave, and 6 days of sick leave per calendar year. The leave year runs from 1 January to 31 December. New joiners receive a prorated allocation based on their joining date, recorded by HR.

4.1 Earned leave

Earned leave is intended for planned personal time off. Employees should submit a request at least 7 calendar days before the first day of leave. The reporting manager approves the request based on staffing and scheduled classes. Up to 5 unused earned-leave days may carry forward to the next calendar year and must be used by 31 March. This sample does not provide leave encashment.

4.2 Casual leave

Casual leave covers short personal commitments or urgent personal matters. Submit planned casual-leave requests at least 2 working days in advance. For emergencies, notify the reporting manager as soon as possible. A maximum of 2 consecutive working days of casual leave may be requested. Unused casual leave expires on 31 December and does not carry forward.

4.3 Sick leave

Sick leave is intended for illness or medical appointments. Notify the reporting manager before the workday begins where possible and submit the request in the leave system. For more than 2 consecutive working days of sick leave, HR may request a medical certificate. Unused sick leave expires on 31 December and does not carry forward.

4.4 Approval, holidays, and unpaid leave

Submit leave requests through the employee portal with the leave type, dates, reason, and handover details. Leave is approved only after the reporting manager records approval. Weekly holidays and company holidays occurring within a leave period are not deducted from the leave balance. A half-day request deducts 0.5 day.

Employees without sufficient leave balance may request unpaid leave. Both the reporting manager and HR must approve unpaid leave, and HR communicates any payroll adjustment. Other leave categories, including parental leave, are outside this training sample; direct those questions to HR.

5. Remote work

Employees may request up to 2 remote-work days per week with prior manager approval. Remote work is a working day and does not reduce leave balances. Employees must remain available during their agreed working hours and attend scheduled meetings and classes.

Remote-work requests should be submitted at least 1 working day in advance. Employees must use a reliable internet connection, approved company accounts, and a private workspace when handling confidential information.

6. Professional conduct

Employees must treat colleagues and students respectfully, communicate professionally, and avoid discrimination, harassment, and bullying. Report concerns to HR or a senior manager. Concerns should be handled confidentially and without retaliation for good-faith reporting.

Employees must disclose potential conflicts of interest to their manager. External paid training that overlaps scheduled company work or uses confidential company materials requires prior written approval.

7. Confidentiality and data security

Student records, employee records, credentials, unpublished course materials, and internal business information are confidential. Access only the information needed for assigned duties. Do not share passwords or store confidential files in personal cloud accounts.

Use strong unique passwords and multi-factor authentication where available. Lock devices when unattended. Do not upload confidential information to public AI tools without documented company approval. Report suspected data exposure or a lost company device to IT support and the manager immediately, with a target of within 1 hour of discovery.

8. Company equipment

Company laptops and other equipment must be used responsibly. Install software only through approved processes. Employees must return assigned equipment and company records when employment ends or when requested by the company.

9. Expenses and reimbursements

Business travel, paid software, and training purchases require written manager approval before spending. Submit reimbursement claims with receipts, the business purpose, and approval evidence within 15 calendar days of the expense date.

Finance targets payment within 10 working days after receiving a complete and approved claim. Personal purchases, unsupported claims, and unapproved subscriptions are not reimbursed under this sample policy.

10. Trainer responsibilities

Trainers should prepare lesson plans before each session, record student attendance on the day of the session, and share approved learning materials through the company learning platform. Assessment results should normally be published within 5 working days of submission.

Before approved leave, trainers must provide their manager with a handover covering affected batches, scheduled sessions, pending assessments, and replacement arrangements. Certificates may be issued only after completion requirements are verified and an authorized staff member approves them.

11. Performance and learning

Managers conduct quarterly performance discussions covering work quality, delivery, student feedback, assessment completion, and agreed goals. Employees may propose professional development activities; company-funded activities require prior approval.

12. Questions and updates

Ask the reporting manager about scheduling and operational approvals; ask HR about leave balances and interpretation of the handbook. HR communicates approved policy updates to employees. This sample version remains a learning resource and does not establish actual employment terms.

Example questions for your RAG application

- How many earned-leave days do full-time employees receive?
- How early should I apply for planned earned leave?
- Can casual leave carry forward?
- When might a medical certificate be requested?
- Are weekly holidays deducted from leave balances?
- How many remote-work days are allowed each week?
- What is the deadline for submitting expense claims?